

12th December 2009

Dreckly Productions Presents

Am I... Naked?

Choreographed by Jennifer Fletcher

Music by Christopher Preece

The Saga Continues: Tour 2010

Following their success at the Edinburgh Fringe in 2009, Dreckly Productions are preparing to storm dance and theatre venues this summer, bringing their acclaimed piece Am I... Naked? to audiences across the UK. This cutting edge collaboration unites an extraordinary and versatile group of dancers and live musicians.

Am I... Naked? takes you deep into the comical and dreamlike world of the performer – a landscape of neuroses and vulnerability rendered in sound, speech and movement. Described as ‘technically impressive’, ‘imaginative’, and ‘awkwardly moving’; this noisy and provocative piece explores the performers’ honesty, bravery and self esteem.

Formed in 2008, Dreckly Productions presents eight young artists trained at the prestigious TrinityLaban conservatoire of Music and Dance. Their close personal relationship forms the inspiration for highly physical work, aspiring to the purest self-expression.

Further information and photos available from Christopher Preece at Dreckly Productions on 07792 3636 78 / email
mr_preece@hotmail.co.uk